Exercising is another way to keep healthy. Being active and doing something you enjoy, such as cycling, is good for staying motivated with your health goals.

Stop bad habits as soon as possible. Smoking is a problem for many people. It can make you feel good and relieve stress, so people forget it damages your lungs and your body.

Stress can be as bad as not eating healthy. People may experience pressure in life because of ups and downs, but hobbies and interests are excellent for feeling better.

Eating lots of snacks will often cause you to gain weight. They're OK to eat once in a while; however, be careful of making it a daily habit.

Laziness is one of the biggest reasons for unhealthy lives. Trying new things and getting up and out are important parts of living a healthy life.

The Hubble Space Telescope is one of the world's best ways to look into space. It can tell us new information on the furthest things in the universe.

Earth is part of a bigger system, the Milky Way. It's a galaxy containing all visible stars at night. However, it's one of billions of galaxies in the whole universe.

LISTENING SCRIPT

The closest star to Earth is the Sun. However, it's nearly 150 million kilometers away. The Sun is big enough to have over 1.3 million Earths inside of it.

A total solar eclipse is when the moon blocks the Sun's light. The light is so strong that even with the moon there, a bright circle is still seen around it.

Space shuttles are exciting. It takes so much energy to fly an object into space. The orange and white rockets are only for the shuttle's fuel and launch.

The International Space Station is a combined effort from the smartest astronauts in the world. They work together doing experiments that can't be done on Earth.

Even though these women are from different countries, they use English to work together. It's very easy for international students to find success with English.

English is the standard language used at airports all over the world. It helps connect people from different countries.

In real life situations, remembering English you've learned can be difficult. Ordering dinner at a restaurant might be as tough as a final exam.

Learning English can help you meet more people. English gives you more opportunities to use a language that hundreds of millions of people know.

Books are good resources to start learning English, but they don't replace talking to someone. Face to face interactions are more helpful in the long run.

In media, English is widely available through shows, movies, music, and games. Accessing this information is as easy as moving your hand.

GIVE IT A TRY PART A MP3 / 52

It's a custom for women in the Middle East to wear clothing to cover themselves. It's considered rude or impolite to show too much skin.

Chopsticks are a part of everyday life in Asia. These utensils are used to prepare, cook, and eat. People in other countries use spoons, forks, and knives.

Hugging is considered a strange custom for many cultures. In Western countries, however, close friends often use hugs for greetings and goodbyes.

Some families ask guests to take off their shoes before entering their home. It's always polite to ask to take off your shoes or not when visiting someone new.

In a few cultures, it is considered disrespectful to offer to shake with your left hand. People may see you as someone with no honor or trust.

It is frequently better to be more polite than not. Bowing is considered too formal in Western countries, but it is perfectly normal in Japan.

Many supermarkets and grocery stores use signs or posters to attract more shoppers to come in and make more purchases.

Advertisements can be anywhere. Lots of common places are near public transportation, such as bus stops and train stations.

Websites use ads to make money. Companies purchase space on websites to advertise to people with common interests.

Classified ads are for the general public. They can be used for selling and looking for items, applying for and posting jobs, and meeting and finding friends.

Business cards are a form of advertisement. People exchange them in order to stay in contact, develop their network, and find new work opportunities.

Not everything can have ads. Drugs, alcohol, and tobacco have limited locations to advertise. This prevents children and students from learning bad habits too early.

PAGES 118 & 119

GIVE IT A TRY PART A MP3 / 69

Many people have different eating utensils for their food. Western countries have lots of spoons, forks, and knives along with their dishes.

At parties, it's convenient for hosts to have platters of food for guests to enjoy. Having everything in one location, people can help themselves to the food they like.

A lot of people are cautious about eating sushi. Because of uncooked fish, some believe it is disgusting, but millions everywhere enjoy it.

Vegetarian food is just as delicious as anything else. Say with some pasta for example, you won't even tell the difference that it was vegetarian.

Organic and fresh food can taste better than the food at a supermarket. Knowing exactly where your food is from helps your local farmers.

Microwavable meals may be convenient, but they typically come with preservatives and ingredients that make the dish bland and unhealthy.

UNIT 10

PAGES 132 & 133

GIVE IT A TRY PART A MP3 / 78

Frustrated people typically throw their hands in the air as a way to show their feelings. They may react very quickly or violently.

Having seen something disgusting, people have a disgusted look on their faces. Their faces look tight because of the muscles pulling together.

Satisfied people have a sense of relief and pleasure with something going well. They look and feel happy due to their positive situation.

Amused people look happy with a big smile and closed eyes. This happens because of enjoying something funny or humorous.

People looking upset have a lot of emotion happening with tense faces and narrow eyes. Being on the verge of tears or crying is also a characteristic.

Being bored has many appearances. Most look emotionless, but the lack of emotion shows boredom. Leaning on their hands or looking quite lazy is normal.

It's easy to look terrified. People cover their faces and eyes to prevent themselves from seeing scary or frightening things.

Shocked appearances have people's mouths open wide and a still look on their faces. This is from something unexpected or unknown.

IV. 聽力測驗：短文聽解 MP3 / 85

Instruction: Look at the following pictures and listen to the short talk. Check the correct picture according to the questions.

1. What did the woman do today?

Hi, David, I'm just calling to ask you to do me a favor. I was so busy cleaning the house today. I didn't even have time to watch my favorite TV show, so I'm afraid I didn't have time to prepare the dinner. Could you bring some food on your way home? Thanks.

2. What is the woman's hobby?

When I feel stressed out, my favorite way to relax is through art. I use different colors to show how I feel, and when I'm done I feel great. And once it's all dry, I have something beautiful to hang on my wall.

3. Where are these people?

Please don't spend more than 5 minutes at each animal. We would like people to move along, so that it doesn't get too crowded. Also, please do not feed the animals or take any pictures. We don't want to scare the animals. We hope that you enjoy your visit today and come back again soon.

4. What is wrong with the mother?

Please try to be nice to your mother today. She's really stressed from work. You know how she gets headaches when she's stressed out. So that means no arguing with her today. Let's be nice and help her calm down.
